LUTHER, CRANACH AND CALVIN – REFORMATION TEAMS

Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg's Institute for Luther Studies promotes in-depth study of Luther and interdisciplinary Reformation scholarship with inclusive, ecumenical, and global perspectives. Established in 1970, the Institute seeks to support both scholarship and ministry, responding to issues facing Lutherans today.

The annual colloquy offers a "critical reassessment of Luther and his heritage," probing Luther's continued significance.

The Institute continues to offer students, faculty and the wider church ongoing opportunities to share and deepen understanding of Luther and Lutheran theology in the larger context of Reformation scholarship and ecumenical partnerships.

While at the Colloquy, you are invited to visit "ASSEMBLED IN SPIRIT," the fall Fine Arts Exhibit featuring Mary Helene Wagner from Oakland, CA, in the Pioneer Room (Wentz Library, first floor).
