Fall Weekend at the Seminary October 24-25, 2008

As you explore your sense of call, take a couple of days in October to discover whether the Holy Spirit might be leading you to learn, grow, and deepen your faith through studying in a degree program at one of the most unique, and the most historic, Lutheran seminaries in the country. See if the path God is setting before you intersects with the Crossroads of History and Hope which mark the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg.

Be our guests!

Immerse yourself in our faithful and faith-filled seminary community. Talk with us, worship with us, dine with us, and experience seminary life with us.

At Gettysburg, our innovative and inspirational faculty integrates the fundamentals of theory and practice into an innovative curriculum designed to prepare you for the challenges and possibilities of leadership in the church and world today.

Join faculty, administration, staff, students and their families to learn more about our distinctive curriculum, community life, contextual education settings, worship life, ecumenical opportunities, costs and available financial aid. While experiencing seminary and community life on our campus we will also highlight for you the countless opportunities available through the Washington Theological Consortium – academic, political, socio-economic, and ecumenical.

Because the seminary you choose for your theological education is one of the most important decisions you will make, we want to make this first step in your journey easier.

The cost of your participation in Seminary Weekend will be paid by the Seminary (including on-site housing, food, and transportation from and to local airports). We hope and pray that your visit might lead you to study with us at the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg.
